NAKKI COLLECTION

Classical. Modern. Timeless. Nakki expresses a distinctive design language, formed to bring a sophisticated yet cheerful personality to the ambience. A combination that creates the foundation of a long-lasting design.

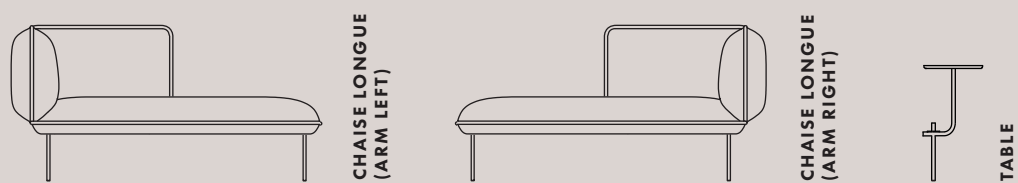

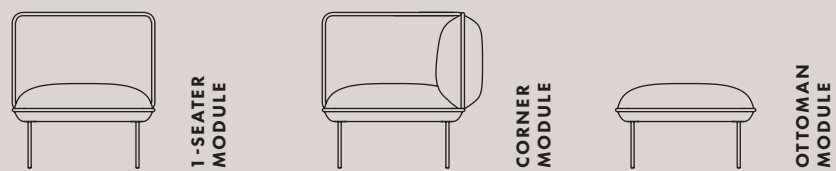

With a clear intention to make a series that is especially suitable for every public space and contract setting, we have extended the Nakki-collection with a selection of modular lobby modules. Complementing the outline of the existing range of Nakki sofas.

Its square contour and straight legs are contrasted with its soft-shaped seat and back, creating an appealing silhouette that naturally fits into any space. From hotels and co-working spaces to restaurants and cafés.

To designer Mika Tolvanen, the idea of extending the series felt very natural. The shape almost called for modularisation;

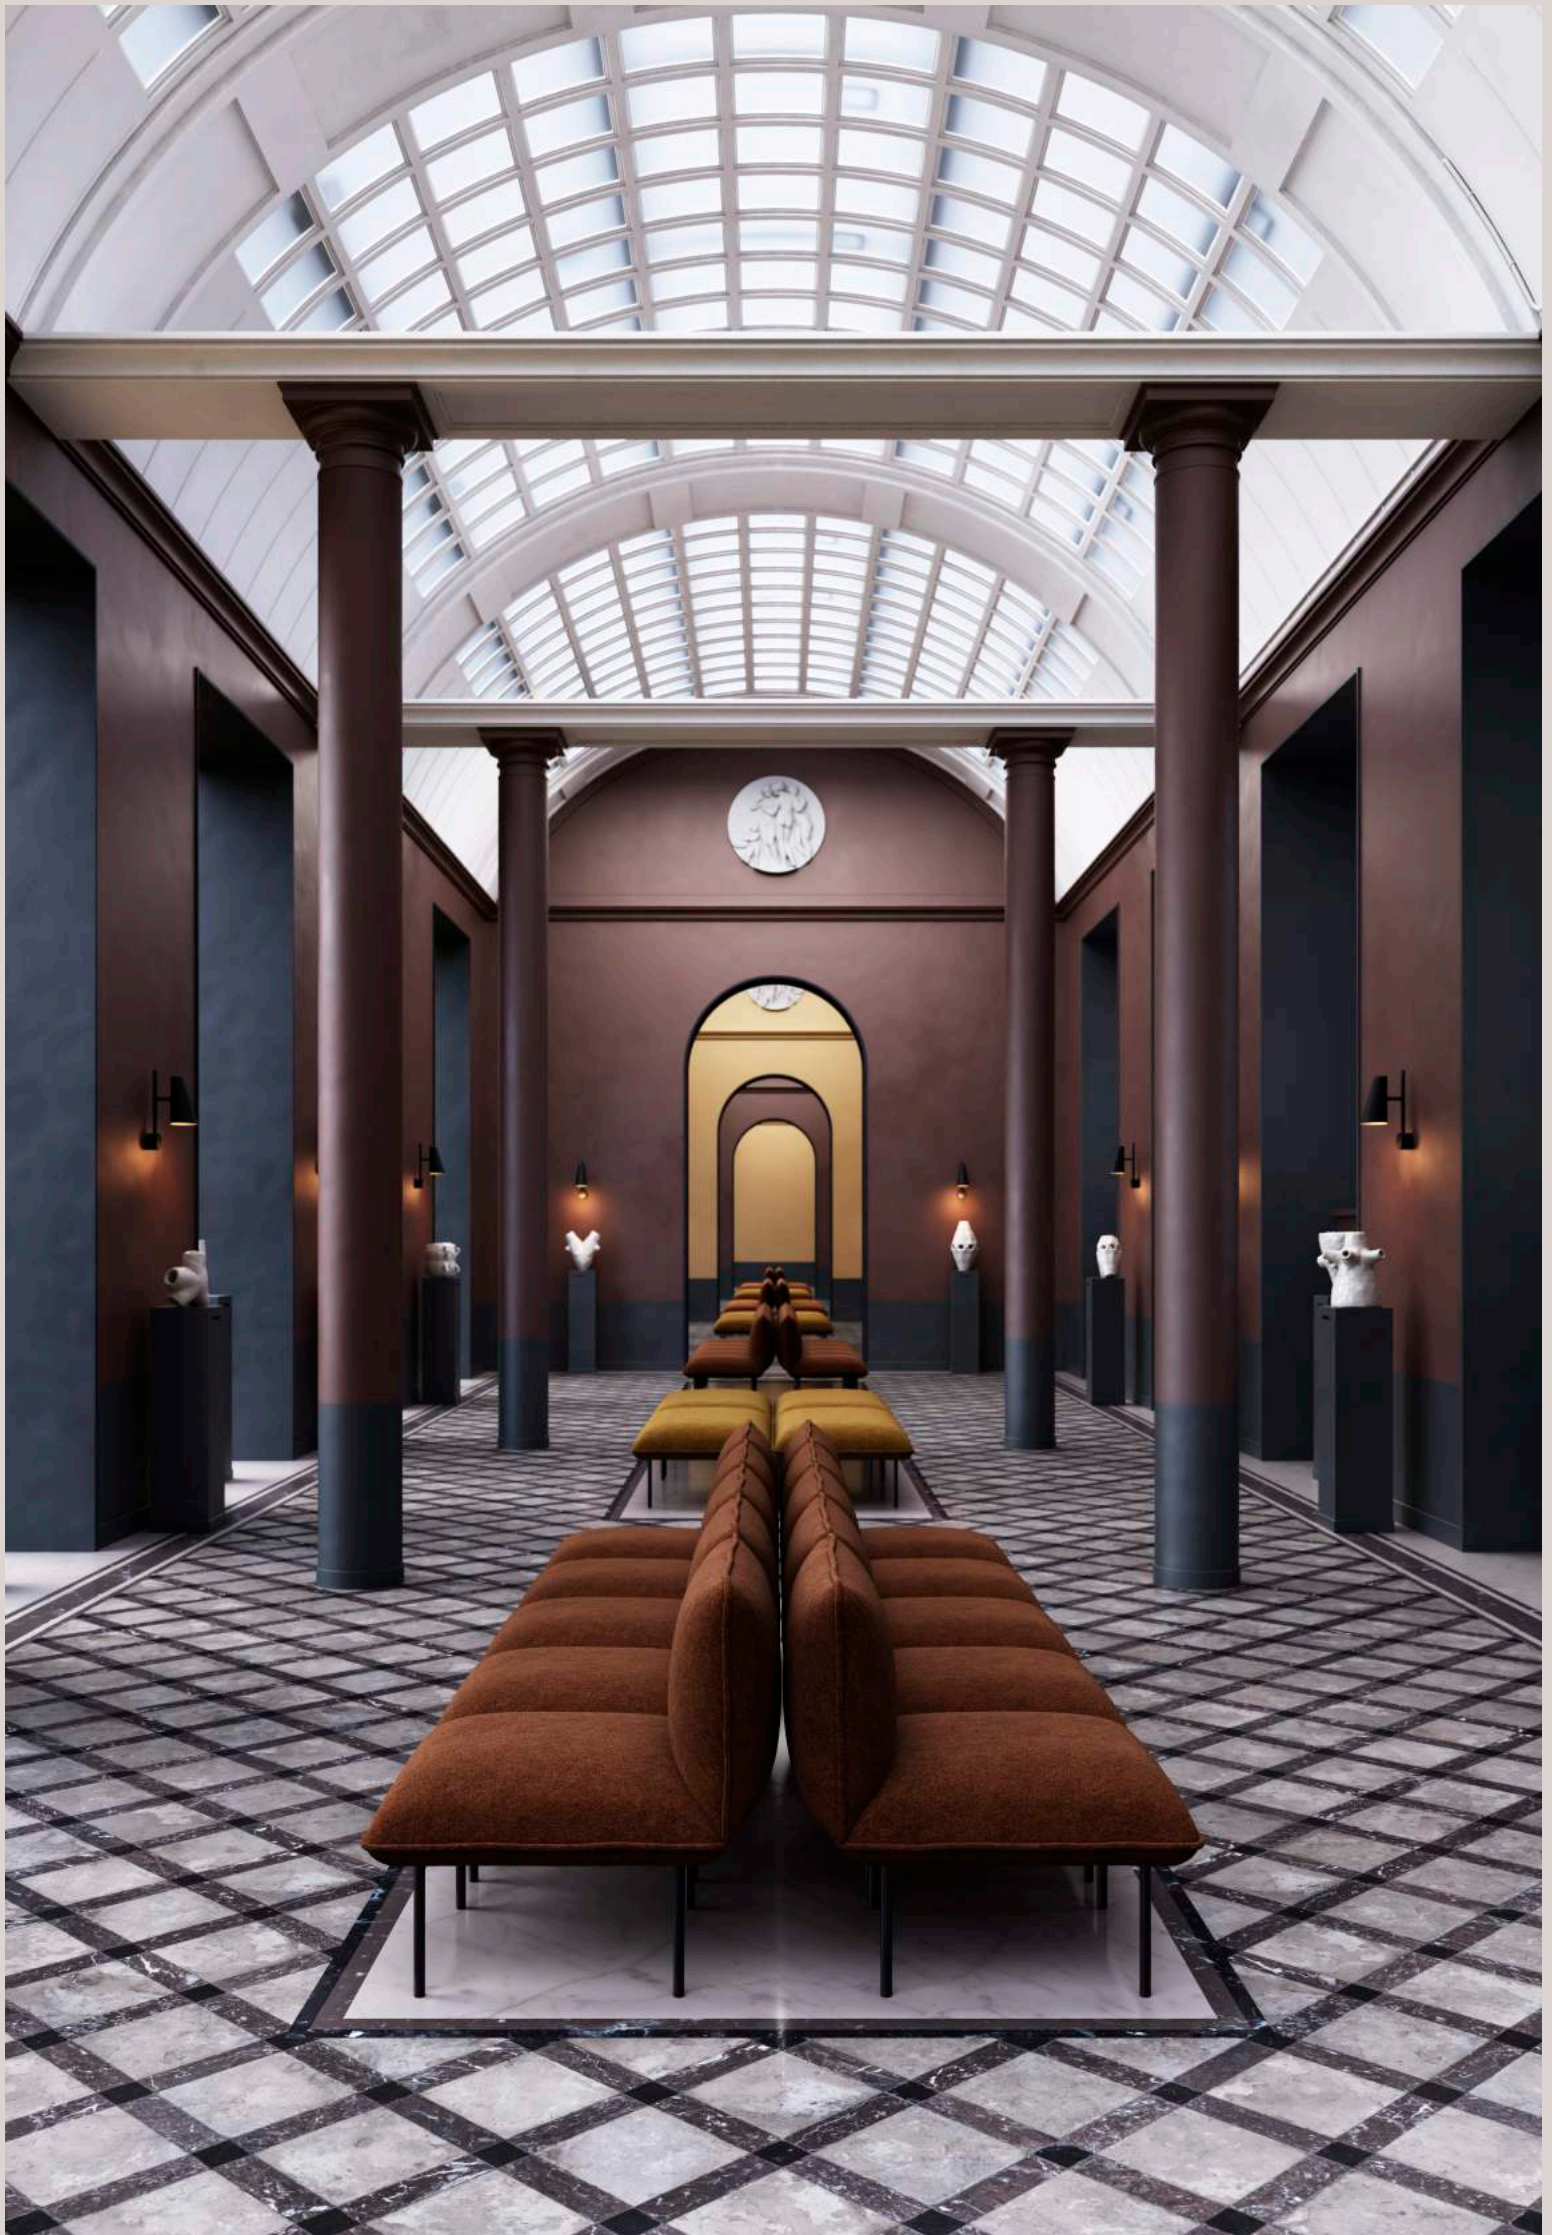

“The modular nature of the Nakki collection became apparent early on, and so it was a natural transition to develop this extension of the current family.

The pillow-shaped cushions are a graphic element that lends itself well to repetition and allows you to make different playful combinations depending on how you want to define spaces in the room”

Consistent straight lines in a minimalistic combination with soft shapes allow you to smoothly integrate various Nakki elements while still remaining a clean and visual light aesthetic in spacious rooms. An appearance that is enhanced by its slender legs, making the plump and sturdy sofa seat hover above the floor

Interconnectable lobby modules

The Nakki series has been a part of the WOUD collection since our first product launch in 2015. Making it a true WOUD classic. A classic that now is extended with a new separate addition consisting of five modular modules and a mountable table. Allowing for an unlimited number of combinations.

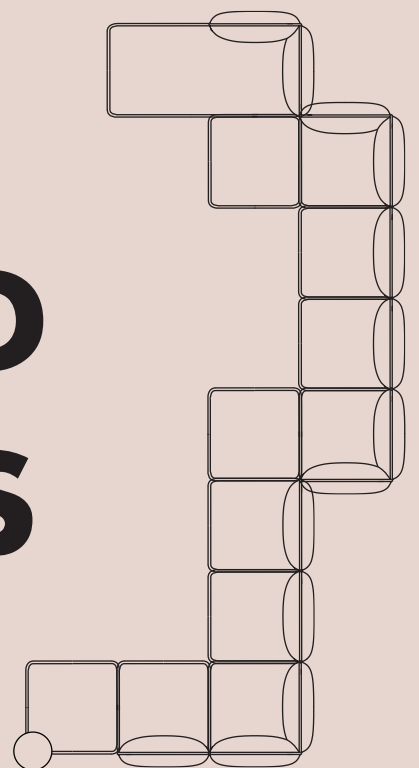

Use the corner modules for both right and left corners or as stand-alone modules to create a personal and intimate space. Make the armless middle module extend the sofa and let it form a dynamic and organic shape winding through the room by combining it with the ottoman. The two chaise longue modules contribute to a loungy feel and offer an ideal seat to rest. For further functionality, add the side table, which is naturally integrated into the design as it is connected to the leg. Making it sturdy and clean.

Designed to suit contemporary society with constantly changing requirements and preferences. Making it effortless to move and restyle the arrangement whenever needed.

FOR ENDLESS PURPOSES AND PERSONALITIES

Consisting of different armchairs, sofas, ottomans, benches and chaise longues, the series is ideal for spacious settings, small cosy rooms and personalised arrangements. Arrangements that favourably can contribute to creating the desired atmosphere through thoughtfully selected textiles and colours

With a wide and deep range of textiles and leathers, it is possible to customise your elements to obtain the ideal solution that meets your vision. Choose between +300 fabrics and leathers from our upholstery programme or use COM for your customised order

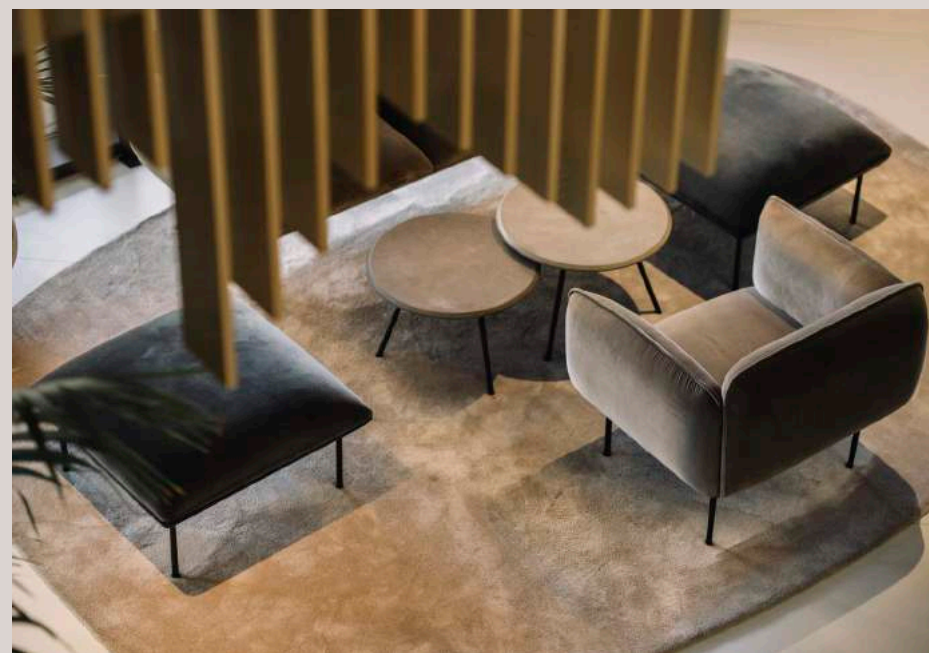

Numerous of colours and diverse textures allow you to create personalised compositions. From silky velour to knobby bouclé. Arrange a harmonious space with an earthy palette and traditional, sophisticated shades or create a statement through vibrant colours and modern, distinctive tones

The Nakki series is made of a strong wooden frame, upholstered with ample and firm padding thoroughly selected to provide a high sense of comfort. Combined with the voluminous, plump armrest and back, the rounded edges and distinctive piping make Nakki a minimalistic take on traditional sofa design.

With its enclosing back, the contemporary modules can define and delimit zones from the rest of the space. Creating small and intimate spaces, informal settings intended for conversations or comfortable spots for relaxation in waiting areas.

Mika Tolvanen

Mika Tolvanen has been part of the WOUD design team since the very beginning in 2014 with his Nakki sofa. We are proud to present the new lobby addition to the distinct series. A series that truly revolves around Mika's design approach.

As an award-winning designer, Mika Tolvanen creates a wide range of projects. From small objects to comprehensive product series. After graduating from the Royal College of Art in London, he established his own practice and in 2015, together with his spouse Julie Tolvanen, he founded Studio Tolvanen in Helsinki, Finland.

He believes that good designs stem from the comprehension of materials and a desire to improve how they function. Functional design is exactly the keyword to Mika Tolvanen. To him, it is essential that the design idea starts from function yet still communicates an original character.

"My products are made for use but this does not mean that they cannot be beautiful," Mika Tolvanen explains.

With an aim to make new designs more exciting, he designs playful and characteristic products, yet it is essential to him that his work has an understandable and quiet presence as he believes design should never be the aspect that is noisy. Mastering this delicate balance makes Mika Tolvanen a renowned designer.
